

Emergency Procedures

Louisiana State Licensing requires that all childcare centers have an evacuation plan in place.

In the event of severe weather, such as tornado and hurricane warning, possible street flooding, it is the parent's responsibility to stay tuned to the weather reports and arrange immediate pick up of their child.

Parents who do not work near the center should arrange and authorize back up persons who would be able to pick up their child immediately, should a potentially dangerous situation arise. Should the children have to evacuate due to an environmentally dangerous situation in the area, we will transport them in private vehicles to the nearest safest place. We will notify parents of the exact location of destination via telephone emergency contact list, e-mail emergency contacts, and by posting location on the door of Kinder Haus.

Emergency Evacuation Authorization

In the event of the threat of severe weather or an environmentally dangerous situation, I will provide for the immediate pick up of my child.

Should civil authorities advise Kinder Haus staff of a possible environmental danger and order evacuation of the children, I authorize the staff members of Kinder Haus or any parent volunteers to transport my child to the closest safe place in the area.

The following persons have agreed to pick up my child and have my authorization to do so:
